Communion Sunday

EVERY FIRST SUNDAY OF THE MONTH
Sunday, September 1st, 2024

Hebrews 10:23-25

Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for he is faithful that promised;
And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

FACILITATING OUR FEELINGS

We live in an excitable world. The mindset our culture pushes at us, destroys our peace of mind, and encourages a spirit of anger and strife. People are easily roused into a state of irritability, and always seem to be ready to argue. When others' emotions run away with them, maintaining control over our feelings is a sign of emotional maturity.

Believers have been set apart from the world. One of the ways we're different is that unlike others, we don't have to let rage control us. Emotional maturity is one of the fruits of the Spirit we receive from having a relationship with Jesus Christ. As human beings, there will be times when we get angry over something; however, maintaining the authority we have over our feelings keeps us from staying that way. "And 'don't sin by letting anger control you.' Don't let the sun go down while you are still angry, for anger gives a foothold to the devil" (Ephesians 4:26, 27, NLT).

The devil wants to ruin our lives by constantly pushing us into anger and negativity. Staying calm is a powerful spiritual weapon we can use against him. Emotionally mature people don't let their momentary feelings dictate their response; they intentionally process the situation to keep their response from turning into a full-blown, emotional, knee-jerk reaction.

The sign of emotional maturity isn't to avoid having any feelings at all, but to maintain a calm disposition no matter what's happening around us. Calmness helps us think clearly when others are highly emotional. An advantage of remaining calm is the ability to see options for dealing effectively with the situation.

The times when we're tempted to angrily unleash on someone are perfect opportunities for the Holy Spirit to step in and help us keep our emotions in check.

Our words are powerful. They can bring us either good or evil things. What we say can either exacerbate a situation, or take things down a notch or two until all parties can work out the issue amiably. Controlling the tongue allows us to control the whole body (James 3:2).

Do you have control?

PRAYER FOR OUR SICK & SHUT-IN

Heavenly Father we come before you in faith, seeking your healing touch. We believe in your power to restore health and well-being. Please lay your hands upon the sick & shut-in, remove sickness or pain from their body. Grant them strength and vitality so that they may continue to serve you and others.

In Jesus name.
Amen
